IEK Editorial Board Meets KU Vice-Chancellor Ahead of AJERI Scientific Conference

Wednesday, 18th June 2025

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) paid a courtesy call to Kenyatta University (KU) to discuss the - collaboration for the inaugural African Journal of Engineering Research and Innovation (AJERI) Scientific Conference, set to take place on 24th–25th July 2025.

Eng. Jacton Mwembe, IEK Hon. Secretary, accompanied by Prof. Eng. Lawrence Gumbe, IEK Editorial Board Chair, led the delegation that met with Prof. Paul Wainaina, Vice-Chancellor of Kenyatta University.

During the meeting, Prof. Wainaina expressed appreciation for the IEK Editorial Board. He also welcomed the collaboration and affirmed the university's readiness to host the AJERI Conference, which will feature international and local research paper presentations as well as poster exhibitions.

The conference will be held under the theme "Engineering for Transformation". The Vice-Chancellor also confirmed his attendance as the Chief Guest.

IEK, LAPFUND Discuss Joint Framework for Welfare and Professional Development

Thursday, 19th June 2025

Local Authorities Provident Fund (LAPFUND) paid a courtesy call to the Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) to explore strategic areas of partnership in engineering welfare and professional development.

The IEK, led by President Eng. Shammah Kiteme, warmly welcomed the LAPFUND delegation comprising Cheryl Mutai and Milewa Kennedy. Also present during the engagement was the IEK CEO, Eng. Maureen Auka.

The courtesy call focused on building a strategic partnership aimed at supporting the welfare and growth of engineers through joint initiatives in retirement planning, wellness, and training.

IEK welcomed the proposals and committed to developing a partnership framework to anchor future engagements.

IEK and Strathmore University Conclude Solar PV T1 & T2 Training for Engineers Friday, 20th June 2025

The Solar PV T1 & T2 Training, organized in collaboration with the Strathmore Energy Research Centre, successfully concluded at Strathmore University. Held from 16th to 20th June 2025, the five-day intensive programme targeted Electrical Engineers, Energy System Designers, Technicians, Trainers, Vendors, and other renewable energy stakeholders.

Participants received hands-on instruction in solar PV installation and design, contributing to Kenya's sustainable energy transition efforts.

The IEK, in collaboration with the Strathmore Energy Research Centre, will be hosting the Solar Grid Tie Training T3 from 14th–18th July 2025 at Strathmore University.

IEK and Car & General Discuss Prospects for Engineering and Skills Development Collaboration

Thursday, 19th June 2025

The IEK initiated talks with Car & General, a regional distributor of power and mobility solutions, to explore possible synergies in engineering training, innovation, and participation in the 32nd IEK Annual International Convention.

During the visit, Eng. Yvonne Robert, Member of the IEK Future Leaders Committee, and Anvar Alot, Policy, Research and Partnerships Manager, discussed areas of mutual interest including capacity-building, support for young engineers, and sustainable energy solutions.

Car & General, established in 1936, is a key player in East Africa's engineering ecosystem. The company operates across Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, and Rwanda, offering a diverse portfolio that includes:

- Power generation systems (in partnership with Cummins),
- Motorcycles, tuk-tuks, and outboard engines (TVS, Yamaha),
- Construction and agricultural equipment

- Automotive parts, compressors, and industrial tools.

The engagement marks the beginning of what could be a strong and impactful industry partnership aligned with IEK's mission of advancing engineering excellence in Kenya.

IEK Engages Hi-CAD Africa on Digital Engineering Collaboration

Thursday, 19th June 2025

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) held a strategic meeting with Hi-CAD Africa a recognized leader in digital - design training and Building Information Modeling (BIM) consultancy, to explore potential areas of collaboration ahead of the upcoming 32nd IEK Annual International Convention.

The engagement was led by Eng. Yvonne Robert, Member of the IEK Future Leaders Committee, and Anvar Alot, Policy, Research and Partnerships Manager. Discussions focused on digital transformation in engineering, the upskilling of young professionals, and integration of advanced design tools into everyday engineering practice.

Hi-CAD Africa is an authorized Autodesk Training Center and BIM consultancy offering professional certification in platforms such as AutoCAD, Revit, Civil 3D, and Navisworks. They also provide project-based training, custom learning paths, and end-to-end BIM services ranging from 3D modeling to construction - coordination and data management. In addition, the firm serves as a reseller for software brands such as Autodesk, Tekla, SketchUp, Leica Geosystems, and ZWCAD, making them a key enabler of digital engineering workflows in the region.

This engagement aligns with IEK's broader strategy to accelerate the digital transformation of the engineering profession and foster partnerships that empower young engineers through practical, future-ready training.

The IEK Engages Sinotruk Kenya Thursday, 19th June 2025

A courtesy visit by the Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) to Sinotruk Kenya opened discussions on potential areas of collaboration in transport engineering, logistics innovation, and mobility solutions, in the lead-up to the 32nd IEK Annual International Convention.

The meeting was led by Eng. Yvonne Robert, Member of the IEK Future Leaders Committee, and Anvar Alot, Policy, Research and Partnerships Manager. Discussions focused on industry-academia collaboration, professional development, and the integration of vehicle technology into engineering practice.

Sinotruk Kenya is the local arm of China National Heavy Duty Truck Group (SINOTRUK) – one of the world's largest manufacturers of heavy-duty commercial vehicles. Known globally for the HOWO truck series, Sinotruk produces a wide range of vehicles including dump trucks, prime movers, tankers, and construction support trucks. The company also develops its own diesel engines and critical truck components, making it a vertically integrated powerhouse in commercial mobility solutions.

In Kenya, Sinotruk serves key sectors such as construction, mining, infrastructure, and logistics, offering not only vehicle supply but also after-sales service, driver training, and technical support.

IEK Explores Partnership with Kobelco

Thursday, 19th June 2025

The Institution of Engineers of Kenya (IEK) held a strategic meeting with Kobelco, a global leader in construction and earth-moving equipment, to explore possible collaborations for the upcoming 32nd IEK Annual International Convention and other areas of mutual interest.

Eng. Yvonne Robert, Member of the IEK Future Leaders Committee, and Anvar Alot, Policy, Research and Partnerships Manager, led the courtesy visit. Discussions focused on opportunities for knowledge-sharing, technology demonstrations, and exhibition participation during the Convention.

Kobelco, a renowned Japanese brand under Kobe Steel Group, specializes in the manufacture of hydraulic excavators, crawler cranes, demolition equipment, and other advanced construction machinery. Known for their engineering precision, fuel efficiency, and environmentally friendly technology, Kobelco machines are widely used in infrastructure, mining, and heavy civil engineering projects across the globe, including in Africa.

IEK looks forward to further engagement with Kobelco as part of its ongoing efforts to promote engineering excellence, foster innovation, and support capacity building in Kenya's infrastructure sector.

IMPORTANT UPDATES

The graphic features the IEK logo at the top center. Below it, the title "IEK RETIRED ENGINEERS' FEE REMISSION POLICY" is displayed in large, bold, white letters. A paragraph of text explains that IEK acknowledges the contributions of its members and has established a tailored fee remission structure for retired engineers. The central image shows two smiling elderly engineers, a man and a woman, wearing hard hats and safety vests, looking at a document. Overlaid on the image are two circular callouts: a red one stating "Full Waiver of the Annual Subscription Fees" and an orange one stating "For Members Aged 70+". At the bottom, a red button with white text says "CLICK HERE TO VIEW THE POLICY AND APPLICATION FORM". A footer bar contains social media icons and contact information: "TheIEK @TheIEK | +254 721 729363, +254 020 2729326 | iek@iekenya.org | www.iekenya.org".
